

Descendancy Charts for the Richards Family

Descendants of John Richards (1755 -) and Anne (1755 -)

Includes their children: Roger Richards, Ann Richards, Jane Richards, John Richards, Sarah Richards and Robert Richards

The Avalanche - this ship went down in 1877. It was carrying Joseph Manuel Richards and his niece, Caroline Loton Foote. They were on their way to New Zealand where Joseph Manuel Richards and his family were living. Joseph Manuel Richards (born 1813) is the brother of Martha Richards, and their sister, Caroline Sarah Richards, died just three years after giving birth to Caroline Loton Foote. Caroline was only twenty years old and Joseph Manuel was sixty-four years old when the Avalanche sunk in the English Channel after hitting another ship. They did not survive.

Martha Richards (born 1815) was the daughter of John Richards and Martha Churcher. She married Richard Howard (born 1813). They are the parents of John Richards Howard. Martha only lived two years after giving birth to her son John Richards Howard.
